Summer Math and Science Honors (SMASH)

This summer, UC Davis welcomed Scholars from across California. They're also developing a new social program to support students throughout the year. SMASH aims to engage underserved students in science and mathematics, with the goal of improving their academic performance and increasing their likelihood of attending college.

UC Davis School of Veterinary Medicine

We have also provided funds in partnership with the Academy for the Arts, Culture, and Humanities at UC Davis. These funds have allowed us to expand our programming to include other top colleges in the region.

CA&ES Career Discovery Groups

This year, we hosted a day-long mini-conference for student ambassadors from across the country. They shared their experiences, insights, and lessons learned with students from other institutions.

CA&ES Career Development Center

The center is a popular hangout and study spot on campus, where students can connect with peers and access resources. The center also offers workshops and networking opportunities for students interested in a career in science.

Student Aid Commission and UC Davis Student Affairs

These organizations are dedicated to providing tools and knowledge that will extend beyond the classroom experience. They help prepare students for future success and help them navigate the challenges of college life.

Universities of California, Davis

This fall, we welcomed 1,179 freshmen and returning students from across the country. This number represents a 17% increase over last year, demonstrating the continued popularity of UC Davis as a destination for students from diverse backgrounds.

Summer Math and Science Honors (SMASH)

This summer, UC Davis welcomed Scholars from across California. They're also developing a new social program to support students throughout the year. SMASH aims to engage underserved students in science and mathematics, with the goal of improving their academic performance and increasing their likelihood of attending college.

UC Davis School of Veterinary Medicine

We have also provided funds in partnership with the Academy for the Arts, Culture, and Humanities at UC Davis. These funds have allowed us to expand our programming to include other top colleges in the region.

CA&ES Career Discovery Groups

This year, we hosted a day-long mini-conference for student ambassadors from across the country. They shared their experiences, insights, and lessons learned with students from other institutions.

CA&ES Career Development Center

The center is a popular hangout and study spot on campus, where students can connect with peers and access resources. The center also offers workshops and networking opportunities for students interested in a career in science.

Student Aid Commission and UC Davis Student Affairs

These organizations are dedicated to providing tools and knowledge that will extend beyond the classroom experience. They help prepare students for future success and help them navigate the challenges of college life.

Universities of California, Davis

This fall, we welcomed 1,179 freshmen and returning students from across the country. This number represents a 17% increase over last year, demonstrating the continued popularity of UC Davis as a destination for students from diverse backgrounds.

Summer Math and Science Honors (SMASH)

This summer, UC Davis welcomed Scholars from across California. They're also developing a new social program to support students throughout the year. SMASH aims to engage underserved students in science and mathematics, with the goal of improving their academic performance and increasing their likelihood of attending college.

UC Davis School of Veterinary Medicine

We have also provided funds in partnership with the Academy for the Arts, Culture, and Humanities at UC Davis. These funds have allowed us to expand our programming to include other top colleges in the region.

CA&ES Career Discovery Groups

This year, we hosted a day-long mini-conference for student ambassadors from across the country. They shared their experiences, insights, and lessons learned with students from other institutions.

CA&ES Career Development Center

The center is a popular hangout and study spot on campus, where students can connect with peers and access resources. The center also offers workshops and networking opportunities for students interested in a career in science.

Student Aid Commission and UC Davis Student Affairs

These organizations are dedicated to providing tools and knowledge that will extend beyond the classroom experience. They help prepare students for future success and help them navigate the challenges of college life.

Universities of California, Davis

This fall, we welcomed 1,179 freshmen and returning students from across the country. This number represents a 17% increase over last year, demonstrating the continued popularity of UC Davis as a destination for students from diverse backgrounds.